

Lessons Learned:

Panelists

Bob Neier

Sedgwick County
Horticulture Agent
bneier@ksu.edu

Focus:

Tomato Day: Tips for turning a garden crop to an educational event.

Cindy Evans

Shawnee County
Family and Consumer
Sciences Agent
cevens@ksu.edu

Basing an educational opportunity on an under-utilized tax.
Using Radon Kit offer to introduce KSRE to a new audience.

Rick Snell

Barton County
Agriculture and Natural Resources Agent
rsnell@ksu.edu

Comparing a disappointing experience with s more successful one.
PLUS: The Battle of the Drills. What is it? Why it works!

Linda (Walter) Beech

Finney County
Family and Consumer
Sciences Agent
lbeech@ksu.edu

Corporate Meltdown? Cooking classes that are fun?
PLUS: Is there value in re-introducing yourself?

Spencer Casey

Assistant Administrator
Western Kansas Agricultural Research Centers
scasey@ksu.edu

Tips for successful events, including turning a negative into a positive.
PLUS: Customer service lessons from the pros.

Andrea (Schmidt) Feldkamp

Riley County
4-H Youth Development
afeld@ksu.edu

Tips for integrating new programs and events into established practices.

Ronda Jantz

Sedgwick County
Horticulture/Agriculture and Natural Resources Agent
rjantz@ksu.edu

Tips for transferring program management “seamlessly.”

K-State Research and Extension Annual Conference 9-27-06